Message from the SRASHS President

It is an honor and a privilege to serve as SR-ASHS president this year, and I look forward to another successful year for the Region. Thanks also go out to all those participating in our recent annual meeting in Atlanta, Georgia. Attendance was down a little down from the previous year due to weather issues in parts of the region, to competing meetings in a few cases, and also in part to our current economic woes. However it was still a very successful meeting thanks to our Secretary-Treasurer David Reed, the Section Chairs, Committee Chairs, and Members who helped pull it all together.

One of my primary responsibilities, and very positive experiences, while serving as president-elect of the Southern Region this past year was chairing the oral presentation sessions for the Childers MS and Barham PhD competitions. Fourteen students participated in the MS competition and four in the PhD. All the participants are to be congratulated, and all are "winners", whether they placed in the top three in the judging or not. We are very fortunate to have dedicated young horticulturists such as these entering our profession. It bodes well for the immediate future. But, what about the next generation? Over the years I have also been privileged to be able to expose my children, and now grandchildren, to at least some aspects of my small fruit breeding research at North Carolina State University. In the accompanying photo my eldest granddaughter was assisting me in evaluating strawberry seedlings last May at Castle Hayne, NC. She really got into this and after some time was heard to remark that "she was afraid she was beginning to sound like granddaddy" when calling out the ratings for the individual traits of a particular seedling.

Quite a few young people today have opportunities to learn about Horticulture through experiences with school gardens, high school horticulture classes, 4-H or FFA, and these have undoubtedly lead a number to enter our profession. However, nothing beats the one on one learning experience, whether it be with family members, friends, and/or professionals such as ourselves. What better service can we provide to our profession than to make more concerted efforts to provide these one on one learning experiences for the young people in our families and communities. It can also provide us with a positive diversion during the present climate of downsizing and austere budgets.

Jim Ballington, President SRASHS

Message from the ACB President

This year, another successful Southern Region ASHS conference was held in Atlanta, GA. Congratulations to all of the people who received awards for their excellence. Everyone did so well in their achievements, all deserve to be recognized.

I hope everyone will make plans to attend the 2010 Regional Conference in Orlando, FL including the officers of the Southern Region. Atlanta had many things to offer us and I am sure Orlando will be even better.

I cannot express how beneficial it is to attend the conferences. Opportunities such as networking, tours, judging, presentations, posters and branching out are merely a few of the benefits. If you have not attended a conference, I would strongly encourage you to do so.

After my first conference I realized I do not want to go another year without attending. I made a network of lifelong friends while gaining more knowledge in the field of horticulture.

Ultimately after long drives, an escape from icy weather, and for some of us, a warm shower for the first time that week due to the ice storm, the ACB meeting was very successful. Saturday morning a member from each club gave a presentation to show off their activities from the previous year. This was very helpful to all attendees as the presentations allowed the clubs to share ideas for fundraising, service projects and social events. There to help out with any technical difficulties was Dr. Lineberger from Texas A&M, whose helpfulness entertained all who were present.

Going on a field trip

Later that day we toured the Atlantic Botanical Gardens. While most of the woody and herbaceous plants were either completely dormant or not in flower, it was a great opportunity to review the plants that were on our identification list for the J. Benton Storey Horticulture Judging Contest. The Dorothy Chapman Fuqua Conservatory and Orchid Center was consequently one of the main attractions. On display were several hundred blooming orchids and bromeliads as well as many aroids, ferns, palms and many other tropical flora

Atlanta Botanical Gardens

On Sunday we held our annual J. Benton Storey Horticultural Judging Competition. The competition began at 1:00, after many hours of planning, setting up and determining the official rankings. The competition went very smoothly overall despite minor mishaps, for instance, lettuce still wrapped in plastic. A very special thanks to Drs. Mike Arnold, Leo Lombardini, Dan Lineberger, Richard Harkess, Brian Trader and Brian Kahn for making this competition run so smoothly, as well as the ACB officers Shannon Slivinski and Isaac Wong, whose efforts also helped to make this competition possible. Also, thanks to Dr. J. Benton Storey for his continued support to ensure the competition's success.

On Monday, the clubs held their annual ACB Business Meeting and elected a new slate of officers for 2009.

SAAS Board of Directors Report

Mark Legendre introduced Rick Conner, "Meeting your Needs," as the third party hotel locator. He made a brief presentation on the comparison report on meeting at the Atlanta Westin or the Wyndham Orlando Hotels in 2013 and 2015. After some discussion, it was approved to meet in Orlando in 2013 and Atlanta in 2015. There was a brief discussion on the multi-discipline session and breakout sessions. The general concurrence was that multidisciplinary session is a great idea and is needed on current issue/topic, but the Monday breakout session did not work and was poorly attended. After a brief discussion, the Board recommended that the multi-discipline session should be kept during the General Session and breakout sessions should not be scheduled at that time. Appreciation was given to Virginia Morgan, Ag Communication; H. L. Goodwin, Jr., Ag Economics; and Anna Kleiner, Rural Sociology, for helping with this year's session.

Acting President Bob Whitson lead a discussion on reviewing and updating SAAS's By-Laws just to make sure that the By-Laws reflect what SAAS is actually doing. Dr. Whitson was to appoint a small sub-committee to address the issue. The question was raised by Dr. Whitson on the possibility of adding additional groups/disciplines to meet with SAAS. All were agreeable and need to work their contacts.

The meeting was adjourned at 9:15 am.

Annual Business Meeting and Awards Program Southern Region American Society for Horticultural Science Atlanta, GA February 2, 2009

Presentation of Presidential Gavel Presidential Address: Doug Bailey

President Bailey gave an enlightening presentation on What I Learned in 2008, which concluded that teaching is good therapy, the future is in goods hands with our students, the stock market is not going to allow us to retire early, but don't panic because economists assure us that the economy is cyclic, so get foolish, enjoy life, stay close to the shore, and seek your own therapy.

I. Call to Order

II. Recognition of Special Guests

John Clark, President American Society for Horticultural Sciences Mike Neff, Executive Director, American Society for Horticultural Sciences

III. Moment of Silence for Deceased Members

Abdullah Mohammad, Alcorn State; Gary Couvillion, University of Georgia

IV. Adoption of Minutes of 2008 Annual Meeting, Dallas, TX

A motion was made to approve the 2008 minutes, seconded and unanimously approved.

V. Financial Report: Dr. David Reed.

The financial report revealed $42, 870.18 in operating funds, $48, 742.12 in endowment funds, for total assets of $92,612.30. In 2008, expenses exceeded income by $3,538.03. This is reflective of decreased income (dues and registration) and increased costs in general expenditures and awards. This could be offset by assuring all meeting attendees pay registration and increased use of endowments to cover award costs. If this trend continues, an increase in dues and/or registration maybe necessary; neither has been increased in years, despite increased costs of doing business.

VI. Standing Committee's Reports:

a. Executive Committee: Mike Arnold, Chair.

Mike Arnold summarized the Executive Committee Minutes. Mike Arnold presented the suggested changes to the Constitution and By Laws (see attached). A motion was made, seconded and unanimously approved to accept the changes.

b. Nominations/Elections: Mike NeSmith, Chair

Doug Bailey introduced the new Officers on behalf of Mike NeSmith.

c. Membership: Dr. David Reed

David Reed reported that the society showed a modest increase in membership in 2008. David Reed presented a table of Officers & Chairs Until 2010.

VII. ASHS Report: Dr. John Clark, President

John Clark gave an inspired report on the national ASHS happenings.

VIII. SAAS Report: Dr. David Reed

No major changes were reported. Orlando and Dallas were suggested as possible sites following Corpus Christi, and the members voted slightly in favor of Orlando

I. Call to Order

II. Adoption of Minutes of 2008 Annual Meeting, Orlando, Florida

Minutes were distributed ahead of time, James Ballington motioned that the minutes be accepted as read, Richard Harkess seconded the motion, and the minutes were approved.

III. Collect Names of Deceased Members

Garry Couvillion, Univ. of Georgia Mohamad Abdulah, Alcorn State University

IV. Appointments

a. Secretary-Treasurer:

David Reed was reappointed for '09-'10. Options for providing some assistance with secretarial and fiscal bookkeeping were discussed and David Reed and Michael Neff were to investigate the cost of various options and report back to the group via email or teleconference.

b. Nominations/Elections Committee:

Several people were suggested including Pat Williams, Dwayne Ingram, Garry McDonald, and Christine Cooker as potential appointees. A motion was brought forward by Richard Harkess to ask Penny Perkins-Veazie to approach two of these individuals about serving as she was the new chair of the Nominations/Elections Committee. The motion was seconded by Dale Maronek and passed.

c. ACB Advisor:

No appointment was needed as Leonardo Lombardini is serving a 3 year term that ends in 2011, next appointment to be made in 2010 to start in 2012.

V. Secretary – Treasurer Report:

David Reed reported that revenues were down by about $4,000 due primarily to decreased registration at the conference. Issues related to non-registration by some members of working groups were discussed. David Reed indicated that the accountant found the books to be in the black and in general the society was in solid fiscal shape. Discussions of plans to encourage self perpetuating endowments for the various awards made by the society ensued.

VI. SAAS Report:

David Reed reported that the SAAS Executive Committee meets later in the conference, so there was currently nothing to report.

VII. ACB Report:

Shannon Slivinske, substituting for Dustin Blue who could not attend due to an ice storm, provided a synopsis of the ACB activities at the conference and requested that dues paid by ACB members be returned to ACB to support their activities at the meeting. A motion to this effect was proposed by Richard Harkess and seconded by David Creech. The motion carried.

VIII. Old Business:

David Reed indicated that the changes to Constitution and By-Laws suggested at the last meeting ('08) had been distributed to the membership in December 2009 in accordance with notification requirements for voting on such changes. It was decided that Michael Arnold would present the changes and call for a motion for a vote at the up-coming Business Meeting ('09).

IX New Business:

a. Paul Smeal Leadership and Administration Award

Qualifications for this award were modified to include administrators of Horticulture Units with a minimum of 6 faculty equivalent positions. Thus, eligible administrators would be Department Heads at Universities, Heads and Directors of USDA units, botanical garden, arboreta, etc. Notice the administrator must oversee university faculty or the equivalent of "faculty" in their system.

b. Restructuring of the Executive Committee to 3 year terms

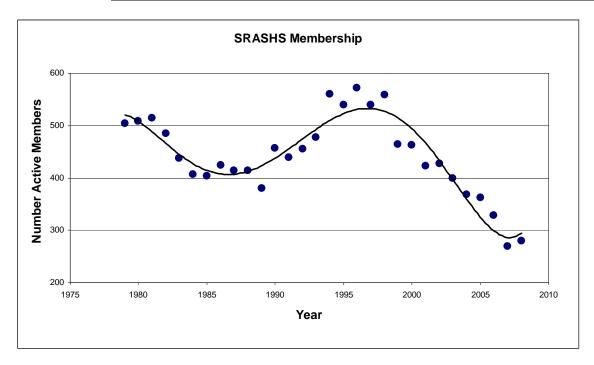

The proposed changes to the Constitution and By-Laws, scheduled to be presented to the membership at the up-coming Business Meeting ('09), would necessitate the election of the chair of the Executive Committee by the members of the Executive Committee. Rather than meeting a second time to address this need after the up-coming Business Meeting, it was proposed that the Executive Committee elect an incoming chair subject to the passage of the proposed changes to the Constitution and By-Laws. In the event the changes did not pass, the chair of the Executive Committee would revert to the method of succession in place before any changes were proposed. Charles Gilliam moved that we elect Richard Harkess as the in-coming Chair of the Executive Committee pending approval of the proposed changes to the Constitution and By-Laws by the membership. The motion was seconded by Jim Ballington and passed by vote of the committee.

X. Adjournment:

With no further business being brought forth from the committee members, Michael Arnold adjourned the meeting.
